Presentation on Morris Habitat for Humanity by Blair Bravo and Phil Van Kirk

Mr. Van Kirk started the presentation by informing the Board of his background and his association with the Housing Alliance, a leading Morris County-based affordable housing advocacy organization sponsored by the United Way. He stated that the Housing Alliance is focused on increasing affordable housing awareness, development and support in Morris County and the state. He described the reduction in the supply of market rate affordable housing in the county since 2000 and reported that there are now less than 15,000 affordable rental or owned units in the County, representing just eight percent of total housing units in the County. He also reported that of these, only 5,800 are deed restricted, leaving the remainder subject to future price increases.

Mr. Van Kirk then stated that while the supply of affordable housing has declined, demand has substantially increased and that the number of people living in the county paying more than 30 of their income for housing is steadily growing. He also reported that over 36% of the private sector jobs in Morris County pay less than $40,000 per year, noting that this figure does not include public sector workers. He then turned the presentation over to Blair Bravo, Executive Director of the Morris Habitat for Humanity.

Ms. Bravo described the mission and purpose of the Habitat for Humanity and the benefits of the program including the promotion of stable communities through homeownership. She reported that in the 28-year history of the program in Morris County, Habitat for Humanity has built or rehabbed 125 homes in the county, of which 37 were constructed, renovated or rehabbed between 2007 and 2011. She described various new projects, including three new homes going up in Madison with the assistance of the Madison affordable housing trust fund. Ms. Bravo also informed the Board of a new 25 home project that is planned in Randolph. She indicated that all the units constructed are deed restricted, meet COAH requirements and that local housing trust funds can be used to develop this housing. Ms. Bravo and Mr. Van Kirk described the volunteer process and invited members to get involved in the program. A discussion followed.
